Petitioner is a displaced person by Tehri Dam project. Sometimes in 1982 acquisition proceedings were initiated in respect of the property of the petitioner. According to the petitioner, in 1987, he handed over possession and also received compensation. In 1989, he filed the first writ petition in Allahabad High Court asking for allotment of shop by way of rehabilitation. On the direction of the Allahabad High Court, the authorities decided his representation, saying that he is not eligible for allotment. The communication is dated 17.07.1989. The petitioner has questioned the correctness thereof by filing the instant writ petition.

Learned counsel for the petitioner argued at length that reasons, as assigned, are cryptic and as such the order is bad in law. We do not propose to enter into the niceties of the argument of the learned counsel since he approached this Court after more than 12 years. The latches on the part of the petitioner are without any cogent reason. We do not propose to entertain the petition.

The petition is dismissed.
